offered help to the victims with the help of their teachers and other road users.

Last Saturday was amazing! We went to Sumiran Eco Farm with my family. We did many activities at the farm. We went for horse riding, wall climbing, kayaking, animal petting and flying fox. We spent the whole day having fun together. The best part of the day was when I got to experience glamping. It was so much fun as the activities were fun and adventurous.

In the past, it was difficult to do homework at night because there was no electricity. People will use candles or oil lamps to light up the house.

Also, there used to be no clocks as it was considered expensive. They relied on the sound of a rooster to indicate that morning had arrived.

Most parents were farmers. They used buffaloes to plough the paddy field when there was no tractor. Schoolchildren would walk to school as there were no cars or school buses. Most schools were made of wood, unlike what we have now.

On my 12th birthday, I want to do something remarkable and special. I love dolphins, so I told my parents I want to see them in real life.

Dolphins are beautiful and friendly creatures. They are known for always helping humans during their trouble times in the sea.

So, my parents brought me for a trip to the sea. Before we go for the swimming with the dolphins in the sea, the instructor gave us a lesson. We wore special swimming attire before entering the speedboat. Our safety is their priority so we need to follow the instructor's command. In the sea, we swam with the dolphins for an hour.

It was tiring but I was happy. It was a memorable day.

Once upon a time, there was a mouse deer called Sang Kancil. It was small but clever. It lived in a jungle.

One day, Sang Kancil was walking in the jungle and saw many ripe fruits in the garden. Unfortunately, the garden was across the river, and there were many crocodiles. The crocodiles saw Sang Kancil and wanted to eat him.

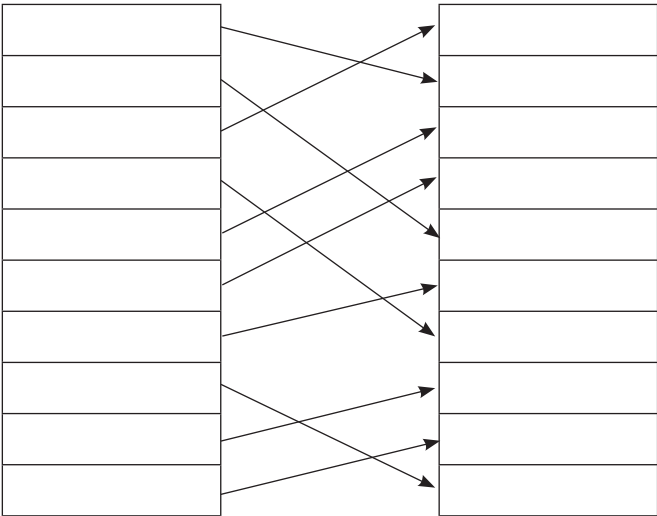

Sang Kancil was clever, so he made a deal with the crocodiles. He said they could only eat him after he counted them. So, he asked the crocodiles to form a row. Then, he jumped on the back of the crocodiles and counted. He managed to cross the river and ran away.

School uniforms are a good idea because it builds school spirit. This will reduce bullying cases in schools. It saves time in the morning and improves school safety because it's an appropriate dress rule. Wearing uniforms improve the school's reputation. It can increase pupil's focus, protect the school's religious identity and truancy can be identified easily. Lastly, it ensures appropriate sporting outfits.

School uniforms are not a good idea because of upfront costs. There will be a lack of freedom of expression as it teaches gender norms, and pupils don't get to exercise free choice.

Besides that, uniforms can violate religious expression. Wearing uniforms also highlights social-class differences between schools, so it's not efficient.

Parents need to manage laundry routines around school days, and finally, sometimes it is difficult to find uniforms, especially for prefects, librarians and other uniform bodies.
